

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE Humanities

OFFICE OF COMMUNICATIONS

NEH-FUNDED DIGITAL PROJECTS AWARDS AND RECOGNITION

Mission US:

- 2015 International Serious Play Awards: Gold Medal - Education Category (for "City of Immigrants")
- 2014 Games for Change Awards: Most Significant Impact (Games For Change Festival, 2014)
- 2014 Parents' Choice Gold Award (Parent's Choice Media)
- 2014 Common Sense Media ON for Learning Award (www.common sense media.org)
- 2013 Japan Prize: Winner, Minister of Foreign Affairs Prize for Best Work in the Youth Category
- 2013 Common Sense Media ON for Learning Award
- 2012 NETA Awards: Winner for Classroom Content in the Instructional Media category (National Educational Telecommunications Association, received score 60 of 60 from judges)
- 2012 International Serious Play Awards: Gold Medal – Education Category (Serious Play Conference, 2012)
- 2011 NETA Awards: Winner for Instructional Content/Learning Object in the Instructional Media category (received score 60 of 60 from judges)

Past/Present 1906

- 2012 International Serious Play Awards: Silver Medal—Education Category (Serious Play Conference, 2012)

Walden

- Official selection, Sundance New Frontier Story Lab (2014, Sundance Institute)
 - Project Director Tracy Fullerton, Director of the USC Game Innovation Lab, also received the 2015 Games for Change Game Changer award and the 2016 Game Developers Conference Ambassador Award for her work in growing diversity in the game industry.

Histories of the National Mall (mobile application)

- 2015 Outstanding Public History Project award, National Council for Public History